Welcome to Your Community in Brazil!

This is the first edition of the new journal specialized in traineeships in Brazil, made especially for you. It is with great joy that we present you IDM Community, a journal that has as an objective to spread opportunities of traineeships, present the IDM, an internship's company in Brazil and to promote debates with subjects related to education, sports, culture, customs, politics, where we can change experiences and know a little of the reality of each country.

Be welcome at a small part of Brazil!

Rio de Janeiro &#8211; The Wonderful City

Placed in a privileged landscape for the natural beauty, between the sea and the mountains, the city of Rio de Janeiro is one of the most beautiful cities in the world, and that is why the heading of Wonderful City was valid.

Mixing culture, leisure and sports, exceeding the limits of the wonderful city, the state of Rio de Janeiro offers many options of tourist and cultural strolls, since old farms of coffee until famous beaches paradisiacal beaches and agitated nocturnal life. You will be astonished by the beauty and the contrasts of this city, headquarters of the IDM.

The Company

Through an enterprise project, the idealizers of the IDM had arrived at the northeast in August of 2002. They had elaborated an internship system believing the fact that youth is the important key for the businesses between the countries. Appeared then, the idea to intermediate periods of training for young Germans in Brazil as well as young Brazilians in Germany with the partnership of Brazilian partners who had implemented the project.

Thus, the IDM Rio De Janeiro and Curitiba was established. Expanding for Florian&#243;polis in 2006. The company has as its main objective To intermediate the Multicultural Development contributing for the intercultural development of young and people of all ages, propitiating a complementation of the teach-learning for colleges student, immersion in the language and Brazilian culture, personal growth and of customs.

Objective

People say that the internship appeared in the postwar period, with young Americans going to Europe to take care of wounded combatants, passing 2 or 3 months for there, emerging in one another culture learning with the differences - and from there assuming that this type of integration would be perfect to stamp the peace between the peoples. We do not know to specify the degree of veracity of this history, but, we share with its intention and we search to take its objectives, ahead to not only promote the peace, as well as the exchange of knowledge and experiences between young professionals whom they search to still enrich its resumes and, to make possible to the entrepreneurs a new modality of services. For this, we create the program of professional period of training.

The Internship Program

The IDM offers a program of complete period of training, with quality and security. Many options are presented, so that you can choose the one that more interest you. The period of training contract is made by us, who will be completely responsible for your period of training during all the period, and we will also offer a translator for the meetings, in case that necessary, keeping direct contact with responsible for your sector of work with biweekly reports of evaluation and exploitation, as well as leading you to your workstation during the first days or until if you feel insurance. We organize your lodging, we offer to your disposal medical services, cultural programs, taxi services, beyond promoting meetings with all the trainees. You will have our support whenever you request it, giving you a personalized attendance, assisting next to the company in which you are going to work, in the family where you will stay, as well as in the bureaucratic questions next to the Federal Police and in everything that you need, with all the security and professionalism.

The Lodging

A family is evaluated and selected with all the affection and care to receive it. The rooms are individuals with the option of one or two daily meals, everything intermediated by the company. The ideal complement for a bigger exploitation of the period of training, because it is possible to practise better the Portuguese. Also it is possible to be in furnished apartments or double rooms.

IDM's Portuguese Course

Thinking about you, IDM has developed the IDM's Portuguese course with its own methodology. This attitude has the proposal to low the program's costs maintaining the quality and good attendance. The teacher's team are composed by experienced teachers, which are responsible for the course methodology. The classrooms are comfortable and well located. The methodology is totally based on communication.

The communicate approach aims at the development of the four habilities: speak, write, understand and read, using songs, outdoors classes and extra activities.

The classes

It has the duration of four hours a day. Three hours of the class take place in the classroom and one hour is given out. It's what we call "open classes". In this open classes you will face everyday situations like going to a bookstore, talking to an attendant or walking in Copacabana's sidewalk, observing the brazilian people habits. We also have a special Friday program: every Friday you will visit one of the sights of the city.

The Location

The IDM's Portuguese Course is located in Copacaba, near the IDM's company, and it has also classrooms at NGOs, which are supported by the company in Rio de Janeiro. When the classes take place at a NGO, part of the couse price is destined to the NGO.

Social Works

The IDM supports the Social Project Hill of the Fraternity - COFRA. Located at the feet of the mount called Morro dos Macacos, it is contributing for the development of the local community, spreading out the citizenship concept, working with children, adolescents, adults and aged people. A NGO that develops itself with the effort of the directors and the community, keeping classes of ballet and pertaining to school reinforcement for children of 4-11 years, capoeira, painting, music and computer science for adolescents, beyond the attendance to the aged ones and people in general.

The COFRA does not have support of the government and is always searching financial aid and godfathers for its projects, so that they can keep its doors opened for the community of Morro dos Macacos.

We also support the Nossa Senhora de Lourdes Institute. A school without lucrative ends, that takes care of auditory deficient children. The school is situated in G&#225;vea, in a wonderful space, surrounded by nature, where the children can play and learn in a safe and full space of affection. The INOSEL, as it is called, takes care of the devoid children of the community of the Rocinha.

In case that you wants to help or to know a little more about the work of these institutions, please contact us - kontakt@idmrio.com.br - Subject: COFRA

Clip Craft Wood

Pocket Wood ; Clip Craft Wood Crafting Tradition: The Making and Marketing of Oaxacan Wood Carvings by Michael Chibnik, "It is hard for me to praise this book sufficiently. . . . It is a major contribution to the field of Oaxacan/Mexican studies, as well as economic anthropology and the study of tourism and crafts."--Arthur Murphy, Georgia State University, coauthor of Social Inequality in Oaxaca: A History of Resistance and Change Since the mid-1980s, whimsical, brightly colored wood carvings from the Mexican state of Oaxaca have found their way into gift shops and private homes across the United States and Europe, as Western consumers seek to connect with the authenticity and tradition represented by indigenous folk arts. Ironically, however, the Oaxacan wood carvings are not a traditional folk art. Invented in the mid-twentieth century by non-Indian Mexican artisans for the tourist market, their appeal flows as much from intercultural miscommunication as from their intrinsic artistic merit. In this beautifully illustrated book, Michael Chibnik offers the first in-depth look at the international trade in Oaxacan wood carvings, including their history, production, marketing, and cultural representations. Drawing on interviews he conducted in the carving communities and among wholesalers, retailers, and consumers, he follows the entire production and consumption cycle, from the harvesting of copal wood to the final purchase of the finished piece. Along the way, he describes how and why this "invented tradition" has been promoted as a "Zapotec Indian" craft and explores its similarities with other local crafts with longer histories. He also fully discusses the effects on local communities of participating in the global market, concluding that the trade in Oaxacan wood carvings is an almost paradigmatic case study of globalization. ### Art Event Ikea

Flag Event ; Art Event Ikea The Theatrical Event: Dynamics of Performances and Perception by Willmar Sauter, X The Theatrical Event discusses the objectives of theatre studies by focusing on the communicative encounter between performer and spectator -- the theatrical event. A theatrical event includes the presentation of a performance and the attention of an audience; in this sense, every performance -- on stage or in the street, historical or contemporary -- that is watched by an audience is a theatrical event. The concept underlines the "eventness" of all encounters between performers and spectators. In the first part of the book, Willmar Sauter presents various models for the analysis of theatrical events, examining the relationship between performance and perception and the interaction between the performative event and its context. Using examples from ancient and recent theatre history and discussing traditional and nontraditional approaches to theatre theory, he builds a paradigmatic change in the concept of theatre. Constructs such as playing culture (as opposed to written culture), theatrical communication, theatricality, and theatre as a model of cultural event are brought into focus and their methodological advantages explored. The second part of the book uses the theoretical groundwork of the first part to enhance a variety of topics, including such legends as Sarah Bernhardt and other historical phenomena such as a Swedish Renaissance play, Strindberg's ideas on acting, the question of ethnicity in the political theatre of the 1930s, and critical writings on contemporary performances. Sauter examines how Robert Lepage's staging of A Dream Play is viewed by critics and scholars and analyzes Dario Fo's intercultural transfer to outdoor performances in Stockholm and the unusualsensationalism of Strindberg's Miss Julie. ### Casual Friday: Central Asia's great games

I was looking for a Central Asian game that didn't have to do with the "Great Game" in Central Asia. Instead of one, I found many or really, Amira did. Her blog, The Road to Samarqand, has a series on Central Asian bone games. Since her account is part intercultural journey and part "the Hoyle's of bone games, it's fun to read. You can check out her whole Spring, 2006 trek to learn more.

Apparently the pieces for the games are vertebrate bones of sheep, or perhaps other animals such as yak or horse bones. In Mongolia, the bones are called shagai; in Kazakhstan, assyk; and in Kyrgyz, chuko. They have six sides, four relatively easy to land and two quite difficult. This makes throwing a matter of some different skills than a ball or die, which is perfectly symmetrical. Just to get you started: Somewhat like soccer: Toss out a small number of bones. Choose two bones at one end of the playing area to be the goal. The idea is to get as many bones as possible through the goal-bones. You do this by flicking one bone between two other bones without hitting either of the goal-post bones.

Somewhat like horseshoes, or perhaps mega-marbles, or maybe even bocce: Line the bones up in the center of a circle, saving the biggest bone. Stand seven feet away. Throw the biggest bone in such a way as to knock the other bones out of the circle. You win whichever bones you knock out.

You can play a kind of jacks or even a sort of missile-driven kinetic go-fish, where players try to knock out pairs of bones that have landed on the same side in pairs without touching any of the other shagai. Clearly, these bones playing pieces are the antecedents to dice, jacks, and marbles in our own culture, but go see Amira's blog for how to obtain, make, and play some of these games. Then throw those bones!

Boisclair's slanted view reveals how Quebec can benefit from the rest of Canada

While much attention has been focused on the controversial "œslanty eyes" comment that Parti Quœbœcois leader Andrœ Boisclair made on Wednesday, March 15 to students at Trois-Riviœres regarding his fellow Asian students during his schooling at Harvard, his comments that followed were even more revealing of his lack of intercultural knowledge, and perhaps an argument of why, more than ever, Quebec "rather than separate" would greatly benefit from building stronger ties with the rest of Canada and exchanging cultural expertise. Although Boisclair claimed that the term "œles yeux brides" does not have the same negative connotations in French as the touchy English equivalent does (which has a history of being a racial taunt), his refusal to acknowledge or apologize for the cross-cultural concerns of his remarks bodes poorly for a man who wishes to lead Quebec into an increasingly multicultural and globalized 21st century.
