Arts Country Craft Wood

Wood Voice ; Arts Country Craft Wood Living With Arts & Crafts by Ros Byam Shaw, The Arts & Crafts movement embraced "honesty, simplicity, and usefulness" as the hallmarks of fine craftsmanship. Today its style is back in vogue. In Living with Arts & Crafts, interiors writer Ros Byam Shaw -- aided by Arts & Crafts expert Su Bacon and photographer Andrew Wood -- showcases a range of homes and key pieces which prove that the style is a joy to live with. Wood Voice Crafting Tradition: The Making and Marketing of Oaxacan Wood Carvings by Michael Chibnik, "It is hard for me to praise this book sufficiently. . . . It is a major contribution to the field of Oaxacan/Mexican studies, as well as economic anthropology and the study of tourism and crafts."--Arthur Murphy, Georgia State University, coauthor of Social Inequality in Oaxaca: A History of Resistance and Change Since the mid-1980s, whimsical, brightly colored wood carvings from the Mexican state of Oaxaca have found their way into gift shops and private homes across the United States and Europe, as Western consumers seek to connect with the authenticity and tradition represented by indigenous folk arts. Ironically, however, the Oaxacan wood carvings are not a traditional folk art. Invented in the mid-twentieth century by non-Indian Mexican artisans for the tourist market, their appeal flows as much from intercultural miscommunication as from their intrinsic artistic merit. In this beautifully illustrated book, Michael Chibnik offers the first in-depth look at the international trade in Oaxacan wood carvings, including their history, production, marketing, and cultural representations. Drawing on interviews he conducted in the carving communities and among wholesalers, retailers, and consumers, he follows the entire production and consumption cycle, from the harvesting of copal wood to the final purchase of the finished piece. Along the way, he describes how and why this "invented tradition" has been promoted as a "Zapotec Indian" craft and explores its similarities with other local crafts with longer histories. He also fully discusses the effects on local communities of participating in the global market, concluding that the trade in Oaxacan wood carvings is an almost paradigmatic case study of globalization.

Wood Voice Wood Harris - Wood Harris, born Sherwin David Harris, is an African-American actor currently starring in the television drama The Wire. He was born on October 17, 1969 in Chicago, Illinois to John and Mattie Harris, and holds a Bachelors of Arts in Theater Arts from Northern Illinois University (NIU) and a Masters of Arts from New York University.

Wood as a medium - As a contemporary artistic medium, wood is used in traditional and modern styles, and is an excellent medium for new art. Wood is used in forms of sculpture, craft, and decoration including chip carving, wood burning, and marquetry.

Academy of Fine Arts (Finland) - The Academy of Fine Arts (Finnish: Kuvataideakatemia) in Helsinki, Finland provides the highest university-level theoretical and practical training in the country in fine arts. The Academy was founded in 1848 by a private foundation called The Art Society of Finland (fi: Suomen Taideyhdistys).

Filipino martial arts - The Filipino "war arts" or "arts of war" were a result of Southeast Asian ideas that flowed from one neighboring island to another. Some of the country's earliest settlers were Malay Muslim warriors from Indonesia, during the Majapahit Empire and from Borneo (1293 to around 1500 AD), who had existing combat methods.

Wood engraving - Wood engraving is, simply, the craft, or technique, of engraving, using the medium of wood. This was the earliest type of engraving.

Straw marquetry - Straw marquetry is a craft very similar to that of wood marquetry except that straw replaces the wood veneer. It is thought to have first been practised in the east; examples were brought to England in the 17th century.

Raden - Raden is a Japanese decorative craft used in the creation of lacquerware and woodwork, though it can be applied to metal and other surfaces. The basic underpinnings of Raden consist of variously applying the cut linings of mother-of-pearl, abalone, and other shells into the surface of the target lacquer or wood.
